Spot on Megyn - KKG is absurd to admit men to a women's sorority!

Slam away. Shame on the sorority for caving to the noise. These women are entitled to their privacy and safety in the sorority house. KKG is making out and show him to a fraternity. But, wait, there aren't naked women at the fraternity, so he probably isn't interested.

biological female sorority. men have their own and women should have one as well. Women have a right to feel safe and comfortable within their own walls.

I'd like to remind everyone that men have been 'let in' to sororities, since the founding of the very first Sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, in 1870.

Wouldn't be surprised if Megyn Kelly let a few men 'in'.

Assuming she was in the Gamma Phi Mean Girls Sorority.

If anybody is being political it's the sorority. They pushed this on the girls just to be where the "in people" are today. The vast majority of people are against this craziness. Those girls should feel safe in their house. I hope the judge finds for them. 🤔🤔🤔

This is a national sorority and I should think that the women members present and alumni would be furious over this. Their recruiting should totally dry up and any woman who has pledged and want out should get their money returned in full. This is nonsense and needs to stop

I was friends with a sorority. Good women (I only dated one)

They would often call for an escort across campus at night for safety. I was glad to do it

They were like sisters to me (except the one) and I'd have defended anyone of them

Does the world not have men anymore?

My own sorority has started using this "she/her" business, at least on a national level. We are all "she/her". Duh. 🙄

 This is many things... making fun for the lack of common sense and sad because sororities of all places are for women.... Protected women spaces. Shocking that the sorority would take this stance.

People have lost their minds. This is outrageous. No way a man should be allowed to live in a sorority house. Maybe we should let foxes who identify as hens live in a hen house?
